Dear Ms. Rozek:

This is in response to your U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request (GSA-2015-000727), dated April 29, 2015, in which you requested:

“access to and copies of the Federal Government contract packages and all related documents, including but not limited to, contract terms, construction plans and calculations, specifications from the design team and the government, purchase orders, subcontracts, etc. for the following government building projects:

1. San Francisco International Airport control tower in San Francisco, CA (project date around August 2014)”

Our search of the GSA records failed to identify any records in our files that are responsive to your request. I regret we are unable to assist you.

Since the agency does not have any records within the scope of your request, this does not constitute a denial of records. However, you can appeal the adequacy of GSA's search by writing within 120 days of your receipt of this letter to:

U.S. General Services Administration
Freedom of Information Act Requester Service Center (H1C)
1800 F Street, Northwest, Room 7308
Washington, DC 20405-0001

Your appeal must be in writing and should contain a brief statement of the reasons why you believe GSA should have the requested information. Enclose a copy of your initial request and a copy of this letter. Both the appeal letter and envelope should be marked prominently, “Freedom of Information Act Appeal.”
